> FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS: CALEDONIA COUNTY, JOHN MORSE, Esq. ORLEANS COUNTY,

Rev. P. N. GRANGER, 2d. The Military Situation.

The military situation is now one profound interest, not to say anxiety .-Gen. Sherman's triumphal march through Georgia gives strong hope if no belief that he will be just as successful through the Carolinas. It is now supposed that his intention is to form a junction with Grant in front of Richmond; aud if successful in this, Lee it is believed will hardly risk a battle, but will most likely evacuate.

Dispatches for several days past have represented Lee's army as about to do something, and Gen. Grant as on the qui vive, ready to take advantage of any movement his adversary might make. The conjectures as to what Lee will do provided Sherman reaches Richmond in safety are various, but most think he will withdraw from Richmond and concentrate the rebel armies at Danville or Lynchburg, and thence make a movement to recover Tennessee and Kentucky in the absence of our troops from that section. In this way he might subsist his troops and avoid decisive battle for some time to come.

It battle between Sherman and Johnston was to be manned by the original crew of the War Department has dispatched a the old Alabama. corps of surgeons and nurses to Wilmington, from which point they will be forwarded to Sherman's army. Hospital stores and everything necessary to the care of the sick and wounded go along.

Next Saturday.

Next Saturday, if he lives, Mr. Lincoln will be inaugurated President for another four years. The general rectitude and good intentions of his administration for the past four years are sufficient guarantee for the next. In fact the people have such unbounded confidence in his integrity that no fears are entertained as to the future.

Four years ago Mr. Lincoln entered upon duties the magnitude of which he or the people little knew. And- although after nearly four years of war the state of our country is far from peaceful, all the signs are hopeful; and now the end appears very much nearer than it did three months ago.

There is a general disposition in the cities of the North to make next Saturday a day of jubilee and thanksgiving. The smaller places are invited to participate. If we can do no more here, we can remember Savannah, Charleston and Wilmington, and be thankful.

Extra Session.

Gov. Smith has issued a proclamation for an extra session of the Legislature, to meet at Montpelier on the 9th of March, 1865, to ratify the constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery.

Where was Gen. Kilpatrick Born?

Those who read THE CALEDONIAN carefully will recollect that in the number of Jan. 13th we published a communication respecting a parish in Scotland bearing he name of Kilpatrick, our correspondent stating that it was at this place that Gen. Kilpatrick, the noted cavalry officer of the Union army, was born. The Burlington Times, with characteristic scurrility, sneers at us for publishing such a statement, and claims for America the honor of bearing to the world this illustrious officer. This denial roused the real Scotch ire of our correspondent, (who, by the way, was born in the same town as Gen. Kilpatrick,) and he has forwarded us a letter from Gen. Kilpatrick himself, written ujst after the battle of Chancellorsville to a friend in Kilpatrick, Scotland, in which he speaks of that parish as being his native place. We have the letter before us: and it is the most vivid description of that hard-fought battle that we have ever read. I that the assignment of her quota for the

The 1st company, under command of Capt. Josiah Grout, Jr., formerly of the 1st Vt. for both men and horses. The boys left feeling well at the prospect before them. Last Wednesday, the 22d inst., we celebrated the one hundred and thirty-third aniversary of Washington's birthday. The two companies spent an hour pleasantly and profitably in listening to the farewell address of the father of his country, by Corp. Rogers and speeches by Capts. Grout and French, Lieut. > EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, February 8, 1865.

Complaint is made to me by Vermont, draft, on the pending call is intrinsically ernment's promise to fairly allow credits for men previously furnished. To illustrate, a supposed case is stated as follows:

Vermont and New Hampshire must between them furnish 9000 men on the pending call, and being equals, each must furnish as many as the other in the long run. But the Government finds that on former calls Vermont furnished a surplus of 500, and New Hampshire a surplus of 1,500. These two surpluses making 2000; and, added to the 5,000, making 8,000 to each, less by fair credits. Then subtract Vermonr's surplus of 500 from her 4,000, leavs 3,500 as her quota on the pending call: and likewise subtract New Hampshire's surplus of 1,500 from her 4,000. leaves 2,500 as her quota on the pending call. These 3,500 and 2,500 makes precisely the 6,000 which the supposed case requires from the two states; and it is e qual for Vermont to furnish 1,000 more now than New Hampshire beceuse New Hampshire has heretotore furnished 1,000 more than Vermont, which equalizes the by beg leave to say a word in regard to burdens of the two in the long run. And this result, so far from being bad faith to Vermont, is indispensable to keeping good faith with New Hampshire. By no other result can the 6,000 men be obtained from the two states, and at the same time deal cavalry, left for St. Albans yesterday, justly and keep faith with both; and we where new barracks have been prepared do but confuse ourselves in questioning the process by which the result is reached. The supposed case is perfect as an illus-

> This, upon the case stated. If there be lifferent reasons for making an allowance to Vermont, let them be presented and Yours truly, A. LINCOLN.

The enemy's batteries were silanced by three o'clock, though we kept up the fire until nearly dark. We also fired through the night. In the meantime Gen.
